PRODUCT RETURNS – for Credit or Replacement

Step-By-Step Process for all ON Semiconductor product returns.

All product return locations are determined by the customer's "ship-to" country (i.e., by the Country where the customer received the products from ON Semiconductor). The steps for this process are as follows:

1. When you need to return an ON Semiconductor shipment for replacement or for credit, you must first contact your ON Semiconductor customer service representative (CSR) to submit a Return Merchandise Requests (RMR).
2. Your CSR will provide you with a Return Materials Authorization (RMA) number authorizing your product return.
3. The RMA form will contain the address/location appropriate for you to ship your return to. (Your customer service representative will also inform you of the routing instructions for the return shipment.)
